Dr. Tulugaq just finished his long day of teaching at the university and decides he wants to go to the gym.

He decides to head to his favorite gym on Campus, Strom.

It is Monday and mondays are his leg day. To his surprise, upon entering the gym, he realises all of the squat racks are taken.

Crying because he's scared he's going to accidentally skip leg day he pulls out his phone. He remembers this app one of his gym bros told him about and downloads it to his phone.

He pulls up the app and sees the easy to use user interface which allows him to quickly find and locate the nearest empty gym

He quickly makes his way to Blatt and is able to hit legs just in time to eat his 11th meal of the day.

Vikki goes to the prestigious UofSC for psychology and she has an extremely vigorous and busy schedule, but wants to be able to get to the gym.

Every time Vikki tries to go to the gym she finds herself being completely overwhelmed and frustrated with the amount of people there and ends up leaving.

Vikki was hanging out with her roommates and complaining about her gym situation, when her best friend, Carol, told her about this gym app she uses.

Vikki downloaded the app and checked it out. She was able to see times that her favorite gym was almost completely empty and would work into her schedule so that she would feel comfortable going.

Vikki has been enjoying the gym for a couple months now however she is frustrated because she doesn't know how to push herself more. Luckily she finds a feature on our app that helps put professional trainers in contact with the user and build personal workout plans for them.

Vikki is now in the best shape of her life all thanks to the app. She is so beyond happy that she recommends it to everyone that she knows who workouts out!

Brad Smith is a huge gym rat. He recently got hired by the University of South Carolina as a personal trainer for the students to use. Brad loves the gym and cannot wait to help others feel comfortable and also start to love the gym.

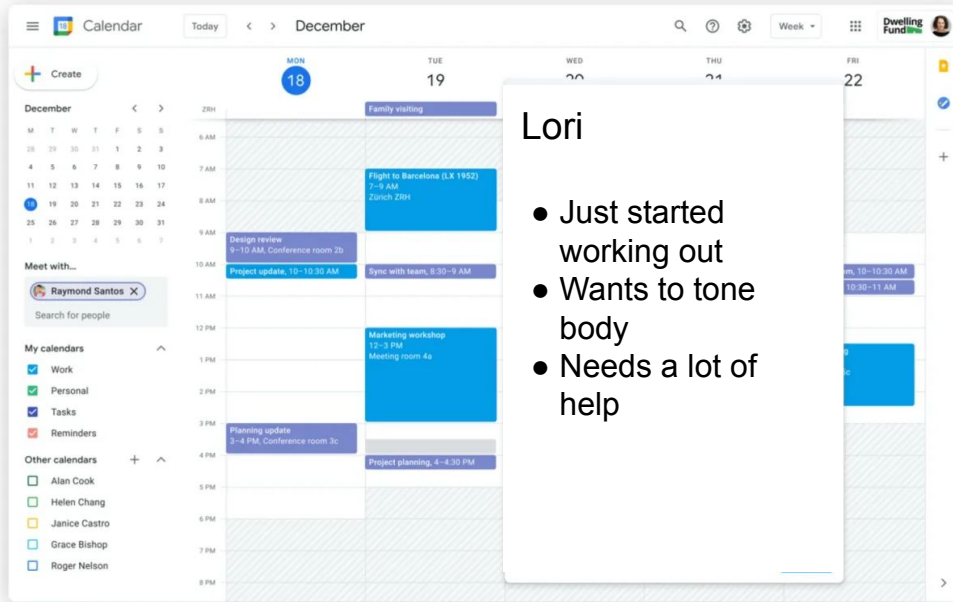

Brad shows up ecstatic on the first day and cannot wait to start helping people. This was Brad's first time in a college gym this big and he cannot believe how many people are there and how chaotic everything is.

Brad is also surprised at how many people are interested in seeking advice from him on what specific workouts would be most beneficial for them. Brad realizes he is going to have a tough time keeping track of all of his clients. He also knows he needs to figure out how he can create the most efficient circuit so his client can get the most out of the time they spend together.

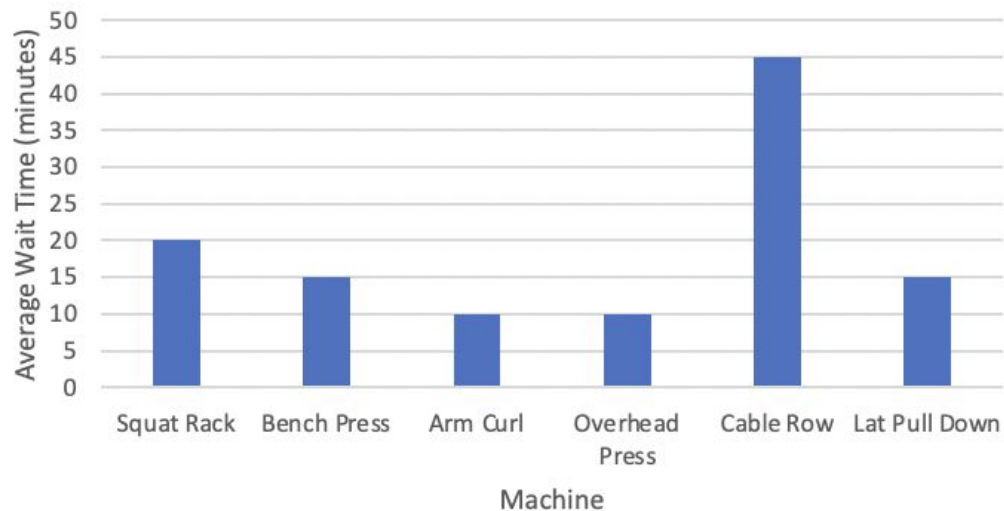

Brad is feeling very overwhelmed but luckily he finds an app for the gym he is working at. One of the features of this app is that clients can sign up to meet with him and it automatically keeps track of the calendar and when he has free time slots and when he's already booked. This allows him to have an organized way of keeping track of all of his clients.

Although Brad can now stay organized on when each client is showing up he still is having trouble remembering who each client is and what they were working on the last time they met. To fix this problem Brad finds in the app he can keep notes on each client that is connected to the scheduling so when he goes into look at his calendar he can also see the notes he has taken on that particular client.

Avg. Wait Time for different Machines

Brad has now figured out how to manage when all of his clients are coming and how to keep track who is who, but because of how busy the gym is Brad is having a hard time managing what workout circuit would be best for his clients so that they can make the most out of the time they spend with Brad. Brad uses the feature on the app that tracks how busy the app is during a certain period of time and what machines are busy and not so that his client can use their time at the gym the most efficiently.
